B. Witnesses Disclosed Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(2)(C)

Depending on the Court's rulings on pre-trial motions and motions during trial, its evidentiary rulings, the evidence disclosed and/or presented by Defendants, and other factors, Plaintiffs may call one or more witnesses at trial who are not retained experts and are not required to provide written reports, but whose testimony, while factual in nature, may include information that may be considered "expert testimony." Plaintiffs have identified certain witnesses in this category, to the extent that such witnesses are known at this time, below.

Additional testimony, including testimony that may be considered to be “expert testimony,” from the witnesses disclosed herein or from additional witnesses for whom expert reports are not required, may be offered on behalf of Plaintiffs to the extent that such testimony is subsequently elicited in depositions, or to rebut/respond to opinions of Defendants’ witnesses that have not been disclosed as of the date of this disclosure.

The following witnesses are expected to testify as to their respective backgrounds, training, and professional observations and experiences; these witnesses may offer both fact and expert testimony. To the extent their testimony may be considered expert testimony, they are un-retained experts. These witnesses have already provided deposition testimony in this matter and/or are scheduled to be deposed in the near future. The possible opinion testimony for each witness identified below includes, but is not limited to: the subject matters discussed in Plaintiffs’ discovery responses; the subject matter discussed in each witness’s respective deposition; the impact and harms that the opioid epidemic has had on health and safety in Plaintiffs’ community; the extent and effectiveness of the community’s opioid response, past and future; matters relating to causation; and addiction, morbidity, and mortality within the community.
